

Materials Research Science and Engineering Centers (Princeton MRSEC 1420541)

Rapid Production of Internally Structured Colloids by Flash NanoPrecipitation of Block Copolymer Blends

IRG-2 members have developed a new approach to generate previously unrealized structured nanocolloids. This discovery has important implications in the stabilization of Pickering Emulsions and the delivery of active ingredients in human health applications.